

Board Of Directors

Our Directors bring top-level executive skills from government, business, health care and other fields to assure our policies and finances fulfill our mission and enhance our values.

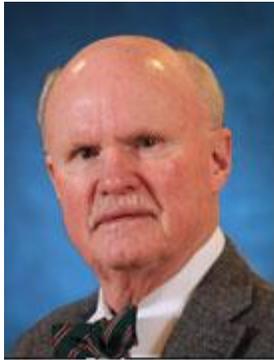

BRUCE BARTELS

Chair

Bruce M. Bartels has had a long and distinguished career in operational leadership of hospitals and health systems. This includes leadership as CEO, from 1999 to 2014 of Wellspan, a diversified health system with 11,000 employees and $1.5B in revenue. Wellspan includes a home health agency, a 680-provider medical group, four hospitals (York Hospital, a more-than-500-bed community teaching hospital; Gettysburg Hospital, a 75-bed community hospital; Ephrata Hospital, a 122-bed community hospital; and a 73-bed surgery and rehabilitation hospital), a health plan, medical malls, five retail pharmacies, and several other health related activities. Since 2014, Mr. Bartels, has continued his community and health services leadership as a health consultant and as a participant in boards and commissions including the Pennsylvania Governor's Commission on Early Learning Investment, Penn-Mar Human Services (Board Member), Pennsylvania Partnerships for Children, WITF Enterprises (Board Member, Chair), and the York County Community Foundation (Embracing Aging Committee Chair) and the American Board of Dermatology. Mr. Bartels has a Master of Business Administration from the University of Chicago and a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Wisconsin. He has three daughters and enjoys reading, running, skiing, hiking, and travel.

DR. WILLIAM (BILL) LEAHY

Vice Chair

Dr. Leahy (Bill) has recently completed 34 years as President of Neurological Medicine, PA, a neurology practice he co-founded and developed. His training was at Princeton University, Northwestern University Medical School and Johns Hopkins Medical Institution, with a continued part-time faculty position in the department of Neurology. He also completed positions at the NIH in neurochemistry and in the Army (retired Major) during the Vietnam era.

For the past ten years he has been on the board of Princeton Alumni Corps, and served as president during the past four years.

In 1998 he founded and expanded the High School Home Health Foundation, an educational program which, on a pro-bono basis, prepares non-college bound students for certification as home health aides and CNAs. The program was centered in Prince George's County. He co-authored the text-book for the course and authored a companion book, Caregiving at Home.

Bill and his wife, Chris, reside in Chevy Chase, Maryland and have two adult children, a daughter and a son. He currently serves on the Personnel Committee of the Chevy Chase Presbyterian Church.

NANCY KUHN

Secretary

Nancy Kuhn is a former attorney whose eclectic career has spanned 20 years in private practice, as well as a number of years in non-profit and government service. She is a former partner of Morgan, Lewis & Bockius, LLP, an international law firm, where she counseled and litigated on behalf of Fortune 200 corporations and national non-profit organizations, including private foundations and educational organizations. More recently, she was Director of External Relations for the Business-Higher Education Forum (BHEF), a national non-profit composed of corporate CEOs, university presidents, and foundation leaders focused on addressing U.S. education and workforce challenges, particularly in STEM. There, she was responsible for BHEF's fundraising, member relations and outreach, and strategic communications efforts. She is a member of Wake Forest University's College Board of Visitors, an advisory board to the Dean of the College; former vice chair and member of the Board of LearnServe International, a social entrepreneurship non-profit that equips high school students to tackle social problems locally and abroad; and former chair of the National Capital Region Advisory Board of College Summit (now known as Peer Forward), a national non-profit dedicated to building a diverse pipeline of first generation college-going students. She is also a former president of the Wake Forest University Alumni Association. Kuhn earned her J.D. degree from George Washington University; her M.P.A. from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill; and a B.A. in political science from Wake Forest University. She is a member of the DC Bar (inactive).

LYNN O'CONNOR

President and CEO, Ex-Officio

Lynn O'Connor became Ingleside's President & CEO in 2010, where she leads Ingleside, the parent company; its not-for-profit's communities & affiliates: Ingleside at Rock Creek, Westminster at Lake Ridge, Ingleside at King Farm; Westminster Ingleside Foundation; Ingleside at Home; and WING, Ingleside's for-profit real estate development company. Lynn has led aging services organizations since 1980, serving as President & CEO for Frasier (CO); President & CEO, The Washington Home & Community Hospices (VA, MD & DC); Executive Director, Asbury Methodist Village (MD); Superintendent, Buttonwood (NJ); Administrator, Rittenhouse Care Center (PA); and Administrator in Training, Key Circle Hospice (MD). She has a Master in Healthcare Administration from Central Michigan University, a B.S. in Health Care Management from St. Joseph's University, and Certification in Long Term Care Administration from the University of Maryland. She is a licensed nursing home administrator (LNHA) in MD; former LNHA in PA, NJ, and Washington D.C., and is a Certified Aging Services Professional. O'Connor serves on the Presbyterian Association of Homes and Services for the Aging (PAHSA) Board of Directors; chaired the Maryland Assisted Living Task Force which created MD Assisted Living regulations; served on boards and their committees, e.g., LeadingAge NJ, MD, and CO; American Health Care Association (AHCA); LeadingAge House of Delegates, chairing its Governance Task Force.

SALLY COX

Sally Cox has worked as a financial executive for over 25 years. She currently serves as the Chief Operations and Financial Officer at Central Union Mission, a non-profit organization helping the poor in the District of Columbia since 1884. She began her career in public accounting in Houston Texas. She has served non-profits such as the National Cathedral School for Girls, the Women's Committee for the Washington National Opera and the Moss Arts Center at Virginia Tech.

Sally holds a Master's in Business Administration, Finance and Investments from George Washington University – Schools of Business. She lives in Washington, DC with her husband John and attends The Chevy Chase Presbyterian Church in Washington, DC.

DR. HUGH F. HILL, M.D., J.D.

Dr. Hill is an accomplished physician, having practiced emergency medicine for 40 years in a variety of top-ranked hospitals. Dr. Hill has also served in administrative and academic positions, and is a licensed attorney and practices part-time on a consultative basis in a variety of health law issues. He has also held a number of leadership and consulting positions for government agencies, insurance companies, and hospice and home health care organizations.

CAROLYN JOHNSON

Carolyn Johnson is the Director of the Interfaith Works Vocational Services Program, which engages homeless and low-income individuals in job readiness classes, career counseling and training, and one-on-one job placement services. Interfaith Works is an organization that helps people lift themselves from poverty through prevention, stabilization and empowerment programs. Prior to joining Interfaith Works, Carolyn developed and implemented a Move-Up Program at Jubilee Jobs, during a period of time when she devoted much of her energy to non-profit and volunteer work.

Carolyn had enjoyed a career in banking and finance, moving from Bank of Boston to Mellon Bank International, and finally to Goldman Sachs where she was a Vice President in the Foreign Exchange Department, advising asset management clients, pension funds and registered investment advisors on techniques for hedging the foreign currency exposure in their portfolios.

After moving to the DC area, Carolyn began actively volunteering and serving on non-profit boards. Carolyn is a member and former chair of the Mission Committee of the Chevy Chase Presbyterian Church. A graduate of Tufts University and the Harvard Graduate School of Education, Carolyn was a member of the Alumni Council of the HGSE and a Director of the Alumni Council of the University. Carolyn and her husband, Joe, reside in Chevy Chase, Maryland.

VANCE JOHNSON

Resident Director

Vance Johnson is a native of Michigan and has lived and worked in the Washington, D.C. for more than 50 years. Johnson's management consulting expertise includes strategic planning, organizational design, executive competencies, talent recruitment, selection and retention. His experience encompasses for-and not-for-profit sectors, helping organizations clarify and achieve goals, and set strategic direction for the future. Past clients include AT&T, Johnson & Johnson, Westminster-Canterbury of Virginia Beach (CCRC), the Kennedy Institute of Washington, among others. Johnson currently serves on the Westminster at Lake Ridge Finance Committee and sings in the Westminsterals.

DENIS VON KAEPLER

Denis von Kaepler has an extensive background of over 35 years within the international business and technology management space. He has successfully led highly creative and impactful initiatives including the decommissioning effort of the National Institutes of Health's legacy systems as well as network implementation projects at the National Air and Space Agency. Prior, von Kaepler served as president of a medical management company where he designed, directed, and managed a core-laboratory contract with a major pharmaceutical company. He also served as vice president in charge of acquisitions and restructuring for a European conglomerate and worked for prime international banking institutions. He has been an associate chaplain for Stanford University Medical Center and has held several leadership positions within the Presbyterian Church community. Von Kaeppler currently serves as a Stephen Minister and on the board of Deacons at Potomac Presbyterian Church.

JOHN KREUTZER

John Kreutzer is currently First Vice President, Wiles - Kreutzer Group of BB&T Scott & Stringfellow in Alexandria, VA with over 30 years of experience. Prior to forming The Wiles - Kreutzer Group of BB&T Scott & Stringfellow in 2009, John managed the Alexandria, Virginia office of Wachovia Securities, now Wells Fargo Advisors.

Through his career, John has helped many clients with varied professional, personal and family needs and has advised ERISA plan fiduciaries through years of technological, regulatory and investment product evolution. John has been selected to participate in the Professional Management Program at BB&T Scott & Stringfellow, given only to a small group of advisors authorized by senior management to act as fiduciaries and manage accounts on a fully discretionary basis. Following obtaining his graduate degree John worked as a consultant with Tribrooke Group, a program and facilities planning firm in Oakbrook, IL. John has a BA from the University of Virginia and a MBA from The George Washington University. He is currently an active member of the Rotary Club of Alexandria.

TODD McCREIGHT

Todd McCreight is the director of business affairs for the Washington regional office of the Presbyterian Church (USA), overseeing 108 churches in DC, suburban Maryland and northern Virginia. For more than 15 years he was a business officer for the Bullis School, a co-educational independent day school in Potomac, Maryland. He is a past recipient of the National Business Officers Association's Will J. Hancock Award which recognizes "those business officers whose work has made a profound difference in their schools." He received his MBA from the Yale School of Management and has presented numerous business education focused lectures throughout his career.

ROBYN I. STONE, Ph. D.

Robyn Stone, Ph.D. is a noted researcher and internationally recognized authority on long-term care and aging policy, is senior vice president for Research at Leading Age and executive director of the Leading Age Center for Applied Research. She has held senior research and policy positions in both the U.S. government and the private sector. She was a political appointee in the Clinton Administration, serving in the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services as Deputy Assistant Secretary for Disability, Aging and Long-term Care Policy and Assistant Secretary for Aging. Dr. Stone is a distinguished speaker and has been published widely in the areas of long-term care policy and quality, chronic care for the disabled, aging services workforce development, low income senior housing and family caregiving. She serves on numerous provider and non-profit boards that focus on aging issues. Dr. Stone is a fellow of the Gerontological Society of America and the National Academy of Social Insurance. She was elected to the National Academy of Medicine (formerly the Institute of Medicine) in 2014.

STEVEN L. WAGNER

Steven L. Wagner is a global management, marketing and sales executive with over 30 years of experience in the U.S., Canada and UK in the cable/telecommunications, entertainment, media and non-profit sectors. He is the former vice president and chief marketing officer of Canada's largest telecoms company, Roger Cable Communications.

Most recently, Wagner served as vice president of American Red Cross's National Headquarters Development where he played a vital role in the restructuring, rebuilding and transformation of the National Development operations. Wagner lives in Washington D.C. with his wife and leads his own business, an advisory/consultancy services and investment opportunities with a focus on tech start-ups and real estate.

HANS WYSS

Ex-Officio

Hans Wyss is chair of the Westminster Ingleside Foundation Board. He is ex-officio member of the Ingleside, Ingleside at Rock Creek, Westminster at Lake Ridge, Ingleside at King Farm and Ingleside at Home boards. His career began traveling between Europe and the United States working as an assistant study director for the Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan and as a financial analyst at J.R. Geigy AG. Wyss worked for 36 years at the World Bank where he carried out and then oversaw a broad range of economic studies and operational activities while participating in the evolution of operational policies. At the World Bank, he managed numerous regional offices, including in Africa, East Asia and Pacific, Latin America and Caribbean, and Western Europe. For another 15 years Wyss continued his professional career as a consultant to various multilateral financial institutions. He is fluent in German, English and French.